Dear Sir or Madam:

Re: Omega Scaffolding

I have been asked to comment on Omega Scaffolding, normally this is something I would not do as recommendations are often taken in the wrong context.

However, Omega Scaffolding are worthy of talking about and certainly worthy of letting others know of our good experience at Dunedin Homes.

Dunedin Homes have used Omega on several development sites including projects at Willenhall, Pelsall and Rubery. Without exception, everyone at Omega put the customer first and their principal objective is safety. Everything is checked and double checked, recorded and the additional signage adds to letting everyone, customers and the public alike what's happening.

I have no hesitation in recommending Omega Scaffolding to any prospective client and even offer the opportunity to visit any one of our current sites to see for your self the high standard offered by Omega.

If in the meantime I can assist further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

Chris Baker
